Call for Papers: Autumn Issue (October), 2025

The Transarea Journal of the Somaiya School of Civilisation Studies, Somaiya Vidyavihar University, Mumbai, invites submissions for the Autumn Issue (October), 2025.

The Transarea Journal is an online, bi-annual, peer-reviewed, interdisciplinary academic journal dedicated to exploring and reshaping the contours of global area studies. It publishes cutting-edge empirical and theoretical work that challenges traditional frameworks and boundaries.

We welcome submissions across the humanities and social sciences—including, but not limited to, history, international relations, political science, anthropology, sociology, philosophy, literature, geography, and cultural studies. Our mission is to encourage interdisciplinary scholarship that reflects the evolving, inter-connected nature of global regions, transcending colonial legacies and rigid academic silos.
